PRESTIGIOUS SCHOLARSHIPS

Created at points in the early to mid-twentieth century, the Rhodes, Marshall, Fulbright, and Truman Scholarships all bear the names of prominent international political leaders whose visions and aspirations are in many ways reflected in the purpose of these respective prizes and the criteria upon which they are awarded. Added to this list are the Udall, Goldwater, Mitchell, Gilman, and Beneke Scholarships. Since the awards are independent of one another, a student may, in their college career, be eligible to apply to all or at least more than one of these award programs.

A Hampton University objective is to increase the number of student applications for prestigious national and international scholarships. To achieve that objective, we have begun to cultivate a culture that fosters an attitude and ambition to compete for prestigious scholarships. It is our hope that in the very near future there will be a billboard on Highway 64 that announces, “HAMPION UNIVERSITY STUDENT RECEIVES THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIP.”

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH TRAINING INITIATIVE FOR STUDENT ENHANCEMENT (URISE) SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The overall goal of the Hampton University Undergraduate Research Training Initiative for Student Enhancement (URISE) Scholarship Program is to help ensure that a diverse pool of highly trained scientists is available to address the Nation’s biomedical, behavioral, and clinical research needs. The program provides research training that equips students with technical, operational, and professional skills. URISE Scholars are eligible to receive tuition scholarships and monthly stipends, scientific conference travel, research, mentoring and networking opportunities with the best scientists in the nation.

THE UNCF/MELLON UNDERGRADUATE FELLOWSHIP

In 1988, the Andrew Mellon Foundation established the Mellon Mays Undergraduate Fellowship-MMUF (previously the Mellon Minority Undergraduate Fellowship) with eight schools: Bryn Mawr College, Carleton College, Cornell University, Hunter College, Oberlin College, Swarthmore College, the University of Chicago, and the University of Pennsylvania. Its mission was to tackle the shortage of faculty of color at institutions of higher education, identifying promising undergraduates with the potential to not only pursue but complete doctoral work in select Mellon-designated fields (principally in, but not limited to, the Liberal Arts/Humanities). Now, celebrating over 30 years to the commitment of transforming the academy, the MMUF Consortium consists of 95 institutions, including 2 South African universities and 39 HBCUs.

Hampton University, along with 37 UNCF colleges/universities, joined the consortium in 1989. To date, Hampton University has graduated 43 MMUF Fellows. Four have completed doctorates. At least thirty have received Masters Degrees. The majority are teaching. Currently, there are four undergraduate fellows on campus.

Guidelines/Eligibility:

- Students must be sophomores (rising juniors) majoring in a Mellon Designated field.
- Students must identify a faculty mentor within their department to guide them during the two-year phase of the undergraduate program.
- Students must commit to participating in the Summer Institute.

UNIVERSITY HONORS COLLEGE
FREDDYE T. DAVY HONORS COLLEGE

Freddye T. Davy Honors College is the primary component of the honors program for those who choose. This is the university program that best addresses the needs of students who possess a seriousness of academic purpose and a desire to be active rather than passive learners, have an intellectual curiosity that supersedes an obsession with grades, seek success rather than avoid failure, have the courage to take intellectual risk and the courage to demonstrate superior, ethical leadership in their chosen fields.

Freddye T. Davy Honors College is an ancillary academic program to the Undergraduate College. The primary focus of the program is the development of intellectual, ethical leadership skills while fostering excellence in education, commitment to the learning process, experimentation, and a sense of learning community. It is designed to augment, enhance, and extend the undergraduate academic experience through community, exposure, and expectations.

NATIONAL and INTERNATIONAL HONOR SOCIETIES

Honor societies at Hampton University are recognized for fostering and maintaining high academic standards, citizenship and collective scholarship within the student body. Undergirding every successful organization is an active, committed and dedicated advisor who mentors, and shepherds the members of the society.

ALPHA KAPPA DELTA

Alpha Kappa Delta (AKD) is the International Sociology Honor Society. AKD was founded in 1920 at the University of Southern California by Dr. Emory S. Bogardus and became affiliated with the Association of College Honor Societies (ACHS) in 1967. AKD is also affiliated with the American Sociological Association (ASA). The purpose of Alpha Kappa Delta is to seek to acknowledge and promote excellence in the scholarship in the study of sociology, the research of social problems, and such other social and intellectual activities as will lead to improvement in the human condition. Alpha Kappa Delta is a non-secret, democratic, international society of scholars dedicated to the ideal of Athropon Katamanthanein Diakonesin or "to investigate humanity for the purpose of service." Membership is open to undergraduate students, graduate students, and faculty members from active chapters who meet our minimum standards. Currently, there are more than 130,000 members in Alpha Kappa Delta and over 670 chapters.

Professor Idonia Barrett, Faculty Advisor

Buie, Christina  Hudson, Alea  Wright, Sominishia

ALPHA KAPPA MU

Alpha Kappa Mu Interdisciplinary Honors Society was conceived in 1937. Its focus is to engage with and influence the academic excellent of American college and university students, irrespective of their major course of study. As such it is one of the few, interdisciplinary honors societies on the campus of Hampton University. Promoting “high scholarship” and “sincere and zealous endeavors in all fields of knowledge and service,” Alpha Kappa Mu cultivates “a high order of personal living” while nurturing a student’s “appreciation for scholarly work and scholarly endeavor.” The organization “seek(s) and welcome(s) the superior college student with a serious purpose in general fields” of study.

During the 2020-2021 Academic Year, AKM facilitated a ZOOM panel discussion, entitled, "Saving Our Mothers: A Panel Discussion on Black Maternal Mortality" in November of 2020. The previous year, in February of 2019, they invited the Honorable Judge Bonnie L. Jones to speak on the topic of "Black Women in Law," sharing her judicial experiences in the city of Hampton, VA. This semester, the organization is doubling its membership, recently inducting thirteen new members.

ALPHA PHI SIGMA NATIONAL CRIMINAL JUSTICE HONOR SOCIETY

Alpha Phi Sigma was founded in 1942 at Washington State University. In 1976, it was designated as the National Criminal Justice Honor Society. This organization currently has over 360 chapters who share a commitment to learning and improving the criminal justice field. While the objective of Alpha Phi Sigma is to provide opportunities for the exploration of issues within the criminal justice system, the goal of the Gamma Tau Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma at Hampton University is to raise awareness about minority issues in crime and criminal justice. Activities have included gift sales for fundraising activities and community service projects for disaster and trauma victims, participation in community health fairs to educate others about violence against women, child abuse and victimization, participation in a youth violence and safety conference in the city of Hampton, and presentations on criminal justice/criminology issues pertaining to women and youth of color at community organizations as part of in-service training. The Society recognizes academic excellence by undergraduate and graduate students in the criminal justice/criminology or related field. Eligibility requirements for Alpha Phi Sigma include junior or senior student classification with a minimum of four completed criminology/criminal justice courses and a minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.2. Graduate students must be enrolled in a graduate criminology/criminal justice program or related field with a minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.4. Others may be elected to professional membership by the chapter if they have earned one or more degrees in the criminology/criminal justice or related field with a minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.4.

BETA KAPPA CHI

Hampton University’s Kappa Chapter of Beta Kappa Chi Scientific Honor Society is an organization that has developed a record of attracting members that are of high achievement, national acclaim in research and have shown exemplary performance in their respective disciplines. Started on the campus of Lincoln University, Pennsylvania, Beta Kappa Chi was founded by young men who believed its motto: “Science Holds the Golden Key to the Royal Palace of Knowledge.” In 1921 or 1922, the seed for the establishment of Beta Kappa Chi took root in the minds of two or three undergraduate students. Nurtured in a soil well-watered by devoted, inspirational teachers such as Dr. Harold F. Grim, biology; Dr. Arthur E. James, chemistry; and Dr. Walter L. Wright in mathematics, this seed flowered in 1923 on the campus of Lincoln University, Pennsylvania.

Hampton University’s Kappa Chapter under the sponsorship of Dr. T.W. Turner began its embryonic development in 1943. Taking their names from the Greek alphabet in the order of their founding, chapters were rapidly developed during the period 1943–1945. Having used all the letters of the Greek alphabet, new chapters were designated Alpha, Alpha Beta, Alpha Gamma, etc. from 1946–1950. Then, at the national meeting in 1950 held at Central State College, the use of Greek designation for chapters was abolished and the chapters were to be designated by the name of the institution in which they were located. Beta Kappa Chi National Scientific Honor Society was founded in 1923 by the science faculty and science students of Lincoln University, Pennsylvania. Beta Kappa Chi National Honor Society is a collegiate honor society dedicated to the promotion of high scholarship in pure and applied sciences. A member of the Association of College Honor Societies since 1961, Beta Kappa Chi now comprises 67 chapters at colleges and universities across the United States, with over 66,000 members.

The society publishes the Beta Kappa Chi Bulletin and a Booklet of Information; sponsors, stimulates, and encourages a variety of program activities through local chapters; conducts an annual national convention to transact society business and for the presentation of reports on research conducted by undergraduate and graduate members.

In February 2005, Hampton University’s Department of Athletics became the fourth college or university in the Commonwealth of Virginia to join the National College Athlete Honor Society (NCAHS), Chi Alpha Sigma, and earned the distinction to be named the Virginia Delta Chapter. NCAHS differs from existing organizations in that it will honor junior and senior student-athletes who have maintained a grade-point average of at least 3.4 and have earned a varsity letter. With all the negative things going on in the athletic world, it would be encouraging to exhibit to the campus and the community that student-athletes at Hampton University are concerned about their academic performance.

The founder of the National College Athlete Honor Society, Coach Nick Mourouzis, head football coach at DePauw University, stated some very pertinent points for why such an organization would be beneficial to emphasize the positive behaviors of student-athletes. To quote: “College athletics have received a tremendous amount of criticism in recent years for overemphasizing athletics and under emphasizing academics. The National College Athlete Honor Society will honor student-athletes in a manner similar to the way Phi Beta Kappa recognizes its scholars. The honor society also will promote good citizenship, moral character, and leadership. We need to renew the emphasis on the ‘student’ part of the ‘student-athlete.’”

NCAHS’s motto is, “Excellence in Academics and Athletics.” A motto we at Hampton embrace on daily basis.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Sigma Tau Delta, the International English Honor Society, was established in 1924 to confer distinction for high achievement in English language, literature, and writing in undergraduate, graduate and professional studies.

The expectations placed on our members are high, but we are proud to report that our English Honor Society students do more than meet these expectations- they exceed them. In addition to maintaining the Honor Society’s academic standards, the members of Sigma Tau Delta strive to be visible role models in the Hampton Roads community; throughout the past few years they have tutored high school students, sponsored film viewing and open mic poetry nights, read to preschoolers, organized a book drive to benefit children in domestic violence and homeless shelters, and hosted celebrations honoring authors ranging from William Shakespeare to Dr. Seuss.

UPSILON PI EPSILON

The computing and information disciplines are relatively young. Yet despite their comparative youth, the computing and information disciplines have had an unparalleled effect on almost every aspect of contemporary life. Indeed, it is difficult to predict the ultimate place of the computer in our world. It is the express purpose of Upsilon Pi Epsilon (UPE) to promote the computing and information disciplines and to encourage their contribution to the enhancement of knowledge.

UPE was first organized at Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, in 1967. The international organization now consists of chapters in various colleges and universities in North America and overseas. UPE is the first and only, existing international honor society in the Computing and Information disciplines. The mission of UPE is to recognize academic excellence at both the undergraduate and graduate levels in the Computing and Information Disciplines. UPE is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies (ACHS). UPE has received endorsements from the two largest computer organizations in the world, the Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) and the IEEE Computer Society (IEEE-CS). UPE is also a charter member of The International Federation of Engineering Education Societies (IF.EES).

THE NATIONAL W. E. B. DU BOIS HONOR SOCIETY

W. E. B. Du Bois Honor Society is a national, non-profit, academic honors organization for pre-college students incorporated and founded on the campus of Hampton University. The Du Bois Honor Society recognizes, encourages, and promotes scholastic achievement, leadership development, and active involvement in positive community activities that solidly promote life-long learning skills. This organization reinforces the concept of honors and affirms that excelling academically is appropriate, desirable and rewarding.

The mission of the Du Bois Honor Society is to nurture the intellect and motivate students who have potential but who are not attracted to nor encouraged to participate in traditional honors programs. This organization is designed to reward performance, not talent -for many are talented, but not all are successful or productive. The Society’s focus is two-fold. First, student participants embrace triple Cs – character, competency, and caring. Secondly, faculty who advise and work with students do so by providing triple Es – expectations, exposure, and experiences.

The mission and program of the Du Bois Honor Society is implemented through local chapters that operate under the national standard outlined in the organization’s constitution but do so in a manner that is effective and appropriate to meet the needs of each local community and constituency. Variety, cultural activities, sensitivity, ingenuity and resourcefulness are strongly encouraged.

Currently, the Director of Hampton University’s Honors College serves as executive director. The national office of the Society is a part of the Honors College at Hampton University. The national office handles chartering of National Du Bois Honor Society Senior and Junior chapters as well as inquiries regarding the Constitution of the Society. Additionally, the national office plans and implements an Invitational Honors Conference, coordinates the selection of recipients for awards and scholarships, and facilitates the means of communication between the national office of the organization and its affiliated chapters. The Society’s Constitution strictly prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, physical disability, or social status.
